

NATURALLY ILLINOIS EXPO

INSTITUTE OF NATURAL RESOURCE SUSTAINABILITY

March 11-12, 2011 www.inrs.illinois.edu/expo

Explore the 2011 Naturally Illinois Expo

Over fifty exhibits, demonstrations, and hands-on activities of interest to families, teachers, and students of all levels—especially those who may be interested in science-related careers. Last year's exhibits included:

Fun with Water Chemistry • Microcritters: Dead & Alive • What Happens to Your Electronic Waste? • Kids' Fossil Dig • What's in our Rain? • Turtles of Illinois • Rocks, Bones, Pots, & People • and much more!

The Expo is Friday 9:00-3:00, and Saturday 10:00-3:00 • The Earth, Wind, & Fire 5K Run and 2.5K Walk starts Saturday at 9:00 AM

The 2011 Expo showcases the University of Illinois' Institute of Natural Resource Sustainability (INRS), which includes the Illinois Natural History Survey, the Illinois State Archaeological Survey, the Illinois State Geological Survey, the Illinois State Water Survey, and the Illinois Sustainable Technology Center.

Groups, please contact Eric Plankell in advance at 217-265-8029.

The Expo is 100% supported by donations. To donate, volunteer, or find out more, visit www.inrs.illinois.edu/expo
